Sample Questions and Answers

Below are a selection of questions from the collection, each accompanied by a concise, Scripture based answer. These examples illustrate the depth and breadth of the resource.

Foundations of Faith

Answer: God is the eternal, all powerful, all wise, and loving creator of the universe. The Bible identifies God as the Father, the Son (Jesus Christ), and the Holy Spirit—three distinct persons in one divine essence (John 1:1 3, 14; 1 Corinthians 8:6). God's nature is revealed through His creation, His covenant promises, and His redemptive work in Jesus.

Answer: The Trinity is the doctrine that one God exists in three co equal, co eternal persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Each person shares the same divine essence but performs distinct roles—Father as Creator, Son as Redeemer, and Spirit as Sanctifier (Matthew 28:19; 2 Corinthians 13:14). This mystery is foundational to Christian faith and worship.

Biblical History and Culture

Answer: God created humanity to enjoy a relationship with Him and to steward His creation. Genesis 1:26 27 says, “Let us make man in our image.” Humans were given dominion over earth (Genesis 1:28) and the responsibility to care for all life (Genesis 2:15).

Answer: The Exodus was a divine deliverance of Israel from Egyptian bondage, demonstrating God’s power, faithfulness, and covenant faith. It established the Law (the Ten Commandments) and prepared the people for a future covenant with God (Exodus 12 14; Hebrews /3:7 10).

Ethics and Morality

Answer: Honesty is a core biblical value. Proverbs 12:22 says, “The Lord detests lying lips, but he delights in people who are trustworthy.” Jesus taught that honesty is essential to genuine faith (Matthew 5:37). The Bible encourages truthfulness in all relationships.

Answer: The Bible permits divorce in cases of marital unfaithfulness (Matthew 19:9) but encourages reconciliation (Malachi 2:16). Christians are called to pursue restoration and to treat divorcees with compassion and respect (1 /Corinthians /7:15).

Prophecy and Fulfillment

Answer: The prophetic books include Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel, and the twelve Minor Prophets (Hosea to Malachi). These books contain messages of judgment, hope, and the promise of a new covenant (Isaiah /53; Jeremiah /31:31 34).

Answer: Many Isaiah prophecies were fulfilled in the life of Jesus—His birth (Isaiah 7:14), ministry (Isaiah /52:13 53:12), crucifixion (Isaiah /53:5 6), and resurrection (Isaiah /53:10). Isaiah also foresees the restoration of Israel (Isaiah /40 66).

Spiritual Growth and Practice

Answer: Prayer is a vital means of communication with God. It fosters intimacy, expresses worship, seeks guidance, and intercedes for others (Philippians 4:6 7; 1 Timothy 2:1 2). Jesus taught the Lord’s Prayer as a model for daily prayer (Matthew /6:9 13).

Answer: Effective Bible study involves reading with purpose, using a study Bible or commentary, cross referencing passages, and applying Scripture to life. Tools like the “SQR3” method (Survey, Question, Read, Recite, Review) help retain information and deepen understanding (John /17:17).

Contemporary Issues

Answer: While the Bible doesn’t directly mention modern technology, it provides principles such as stewardship, integrity, and love that guide ethical use (1 Peter 4:10; Ephesians 5:15 16). Christians are called to use technology responsibly and for the betterment of society.

Answer: Scripture calls humanity to care for the earth. Genesis 2:15 entrusts humans with stewardship over creation, and Psalm 24:1 reminds us that “the earth is the Lord’s.” Christians should practice sustainable living and protect creation (Colossians /1:16 17).
